

Pre-Employment Screening

Pre-Employment Screening: The key to a qualified, productive workforce is professional employee screening. Fraud, embezzlement, kickbacks, industrial espionage, and theft usually involve someone working from the inside. Have you done everything in your power to protect your human resources and assets? Know who you're hiring with THE MCCAUSEY GROUP!

Pre-Employment Screening: The key to a qualified, productive workforce is professional employee screening. Fraud, embezzlement, kickbacks, industrial espionage, and theft usually involve someone working from the inside.

If you are responsible for hiring employees to work for and represent your company, then you have a responsibility to avoid negligent hiring. A Pre-Employment Screening Program will help to reduce or eliminate many of the risks associated with hiring, such as high turnover rates, fraud, embezzlement, theft, misappropriation of corporate secrets, and more. It is critical for you, as an employer, to know exactly whom you are hiring. At THE MCCAUSEY GROUP, our global network includes specialists who can serve the needs of security departments, human resources departments, and small business operators. We also work with security management organizations and private consultants inside and outside the MCCAUSEY GROUP network.

Are you in need?

A Pre-Employment Screening Program takes the guesswork out of the hiring process by providing objective evidence of the potential employee's personal and professional history. The information discovered during a pre-employment check includes everything from identity verification to employment verification and reference checks, criminal and civil history, and more. If you want to be sure that you are only bringing in reliable and reputable employees to join your team and grow your business, then you must perform due diligence on all of your potential employees. Call THE MCCAUSEY GROUP today and let us help with the process.
